

HAPPILY EVER AFTER BEGINS WITH A WEDDING AT

AN CHÚIRT

GWEEDORE COURT HOTEL & EARAGAIL HEALTH CLUB

An Introduction

Céad Mile Fáilte, An Chúirt, Gweedore Court Hotel & Earagail Health Club is nestled peacefully in an idyllic setting overlooked by Earagail Mountain and boarded by the Clady River. This 4 star hotel have some of the most breathtaking views and is beautifully situated in Gweedore's Gaeltacht area in the heart of County Donegal.

An Chúirt is built on the foundations of what was formerly Lord George Hill's residence in Gweedore from the 1830's. More recently the house was used as a hunting lodge and then as a hotel during the early 20th century.

Lovingly restored it has kept the charms of its past history through its fine art, quality fabrics and furnishing, porcelain antiques and not to mention the inspiring scenery, it's a hidden treasure.

In 2006 An Chuir underwent its biggest transformation, extending it to accommodate over 60 bedrooms and adding an award winning leisure complex.

But yet it still maintains its calm, tranquil and relaxing environment.

The Perfect Venue

Over the years we have hosted many weddings of varying sizes, styles and tastes. Reasons for choosing An Chuirt as a wedding venue vary and below are listed the most popular replies;

“ recommended by family and friends ”

“ as a guest was very impressed by entire day ”

“ the location and standard of venue ”

“ staff were friendly and attentive at all times ”

The Function Suite

This light airy room can cater from 90 up to 250 guests. Round tables are used as standard and depending on the number of guests they can seat 8 to 10 comfortably. The tables are dressed with classic white linen and centred with mirrored discs, tall glass vases and long stemmed lilies.

The Clady Restaurant

This tastefully decorated room is ideal for a more intimate function and will cater for up to 70 guests. With its Waterford crystal chandeliers and the Clady River as a backdrop makes this the perfect location for a smaller gathering.

In the past it has been used to celebrate wedding blessings as well as wedding breakfasts.

The Drawing Room

The Drawing room can be requested for private use, mostly used for a pre and post wedding family meals. This room will cater for up to 30 guests.

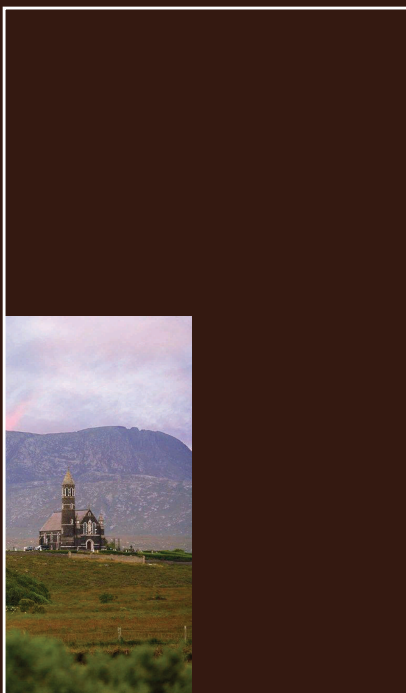

Civil Ceremonies

Now becoming more popular than ever, An Chuirt has hosted many civil ceremonies since being awarded a licence.

‘An Chuirt’ is Gaelic for” the Court” and in its history the hotel was once used as a court house hence the name. In some ways it is quite fitting that a legal ceremony is held within its walls again.

Either the function suite or the Clady restaurant is available for the ceremony. The mature grounds and Earagail Mountain in full view it is ideally picturesque.
